County Awaiting More Vaccine

Take it from Here

F. X. Newcomer, a pioneer of Dixon and of the Dixon area, Thursday passed his 80th milestone along the road of life with a quiet "business as usual" attitude toward the whole affair.

Francis X. (The X stands for Xauria, an old family name. He says that he was named after an uncle.) Newcomer was born in Leaf River, the son of Joseph and Eleanor Newcomer, on May 12, 1875.

He was graduated from the Leaf River high school, worked in a Leaf River bank for two and a half years and came to Dixon in the fall of 1896 to attend the Steinman Business College.

After completing a six-month business course, he started in the business that he would follow all his life by joining the Loveland and Stiteley real estate, loan and insurance firm.

His success story had a meager beginning with this firm. He started not as a junior partner but as a stenographer, bookkeeper and janitor. The fact that he has been in business on the corner of First Street and Hennepin Avenue for 58 consecutive years seems to be conclusive proof that his story does include success.

Newcomer received probably his biggest business "boost" when the late George C. Loveland made him co-executor of the $500,000 estate he left when he died in 1928. He became trustee for the estate when Mrs. Loveland died in 1937.

The story of the F. X. Newcomer & Co., as it is know as today, is a series of partnerships, new partnerships and of "buying the other fellow out."

Newcomer has been a widower for the last 14 years. He was married to Esther W. Walgreen, Dixon, Sept. 24, 1902. A son, Paul, died in October of last year.

He called on his wealth of memories to remember when Dixon's city fathers started the task of putting in concrete sidewalks and brick streets.

He remembers the old courthouse and post office, the large crowds of people that would flock to the old Assembly Park grounds to hear such celebrities as William Jennings Bryan and Evangelist Billy Sunday.

He recalled the night he was instrumental in averting a stampede in the old opera house during a commencement exercise when the people thought the building was on fire — and the night when the opera house finally did burn down.

A member of several fraternal organizations, Newcomer pointed out that he has pulled his business "up by the bootstrap" through farm land booms, two world wars and a terrible depression.

The future? Newcomer thinks that the economy is in better shape now than it ever has been and was quick to point out that Dixon has grown more in the past five years than it did in the previous 20 years.

The people of Dixon? He said that he "likes" the people here and believes that they are as "fine a class of people that could be found in the world."

Russia, West Still Far Apart On Disarmament Agreement

Washington Has Hope for Limited Plan

Arms Inspection Expected to Snag All-Out Program

WASHINGTON—(AP)—U. S. officials believe a limited disarmament may eventually be negotiated with Russia even though world wide atomic controls seem a long way off.

Publication of proposals made by the Soviet Union and the Western Powers at a U.N. Disarmament Committee meeting in London showed today that the two sides are still far apart on the key issue of enforcements.

The State Department released late Friday the text of disarmament proposals which have been made by the Western Powers at the London meeting since February. Throughout the Western plans runs a strong insistence on the idea that the first step in any disarmament undertaking must be the creation of a "control organ."

Outline Functions

The functions of the proposed agency were spelled out in a proposal presented by the United States, Britain, France, and Canada April 21. They declared that agents of the control organ would be "stationed permanently" in the cooperating countries, with the right of "unrestricted access" to all installations which might bear on that country's military power and the right to conduct "field and aerial surveys." The agents also would be assured unrestricted communication and guaranteed that they would not be harmed or interfered with.

Disclosure of the Western plans followed by three days Russia's publication of its latest proposal to the U.N. Committee in London. This showed strong Russian opposition to any control organ with the powers demanded by the Western nations.

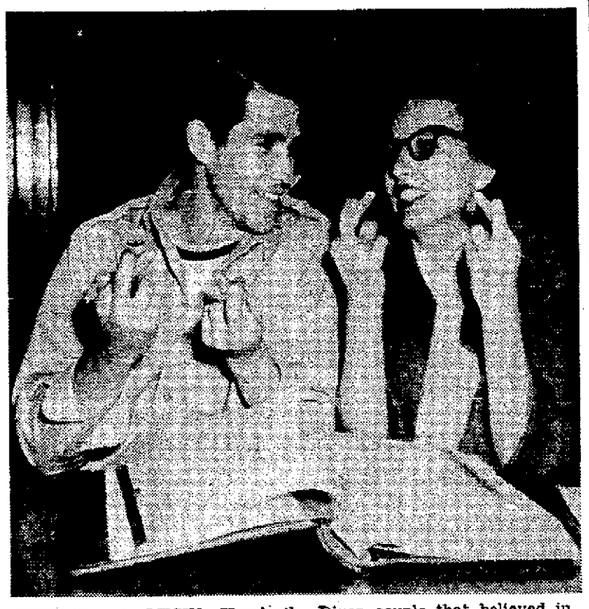
Russia's Views

"In the existing situation," the Russian note said, "when many states have displayed legitimate concern for their security, it is difficult to expect that these states would trustfully give other states access to their industrial and other resources which are of vital importance for their security."

Instead, the Soviets suggested the control agency exercise its watch dog functions at key ports, railroad and road junctions and the like.

U. S. officials, however, say that a somewhat similar plan adopted in Communist North Korea for the enforcement of armistice terms has proved a failure.

The Double Whammy!



THIS IS FOR LUCK! Here's the Dixon couple that believed in tempting fate twice on Friday, the 13th, by not only getting their marriage license but by getting married the same day. Putting the "double whammy" on superstition is Melvin R. McConnell, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welch, Alburquerque, N. M., and Shirley E. Russell, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Russell, 304 Eells Avenue. This picture was taken about noon Friday in the county clerk's office

'Brilliant' Student Held For Slaying

Unsuspecting Shopper Slain In Parking Lot

RALEIGH, N. C.—(AP)—An unsuspecting woman shopper was shot down Friday in a Raleigh parking lot, and a 21-year-old representative of a publishing firm was charged with murdering her.

The suspect was described as a brilliant student who was graduated from the University of Chicago at the age of 18, and the son of a professor at Harvard University.

Detective Capt. Bob Goodwin said Richard Kluckhohn of Evanston, Ill., has been charged with firing the pistol shot from a hotel rear window which killed Miss Bernice Seawell, 43.

The weird Friday the 13th slaying occurred as Miss Seawell and her sister, Mrs. J. H. Patterson of the town of Broadway prepared to enter their car for the trip home after a shopping tour.

Miss Seawell, who lives in Arlington, Va., and was employed in the Veterans Administration in Washington, was visiting her mother, Mrs. W. S. Seawell of Broadway, near Sanford.

Kluckhohn was arrested in Chapel Hill, some 30 miles from here, about three hours after the slaying. Goodwin said Kluckhohn told the arresting officer that he fired the pistol through the window.

Goodwin described Kluckhohn, an employe of the Row Peterson Publishing Co. of Evanston, Ill., as a "gun fancier" and a brilliant college student. A German luger with an 8-inch barrel was found in Kluckhohn's suitcase.

Parke-Davis Product Gets U. S. Okay

Enough Here for 43 Children, Says Health Department

Local health officials said today they are awaiting supplies of Salk polio vaccine for the second dose to be given first and second grade school children, but said they had no idea when the vaccine would be available.

Dr. Robert Allen, director of the Lee County Health Department, said he had no way of knowing when the county would receive new supplies of vaccine. He said some areas of the country had not received the first shot before the suspension was ordered a week ago, and those areas would have priority over those which have received the first dose.

But, Dr. Allen said, every effort will be made to get the vaccine before the major polio season in this area.

Enough for 43

The doctor said the local department has enough vaccine on hand for 43 children who missed the first shots in the clinics, but he said it will not be used until the serial numbers of the vaccine at hand can be checked with the lot numbers released by the government.

On the state level, enough vaccine is available for about 22,000 shots. Dr. Roland R. Cross, State Health Department director, said no additional supplies of the vaccine for the second series of shots have been received.

The federal government gave the go-ahead Friday to communities having Parke-Davis & Co. vaccine to resume their mass vaccinations. All vaccine used in Lee County was from that company.

Several state health officers approved immediate resumption of their mass vaccination programs on receiving word Friday that the Public Health Service had cleared 11 batches of vaccine made by Parke-Davis & Co., Detroit. One lot of Parke-Davis vaccine was kept back for full information on review of its tests.

Some Start Monday

Some of the states will start Monday. School is out for the weekend in most places.

U. S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele announced late Friday that a Health Service team had completed its recheck of 4,250,000 ccs of the Parke-Davis product. He said some three-fourths of this total already had been used, but that "over a million more children can now be vaccinated" with the remainder, beginning at once. One shot takes one cc of the vaccine.

An estimated 5½ million children already have received the first of a projected three-shot series.

States which received Parke-Davis serum included New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Virginia, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Utah, Colorado, Arizona, Oregon, Washington, California, New Mexico. Some also went to Alaska.

Michigan and Utah had continued their inoculation programs even after the nationwide suspension.

Parke-Davis was the first of five pharmaceutical firms to be visited by Health Service teams. Eli Lilly & Co. of Indianapolis was next on the list and government scientists were reported already at work there.

Board Rejects 271 Compromise

'Large School' Members Make Last-Ditch Stand

ASHTON—(Special)—A special meeting of the Community Unit School District 271 board of education, called to settle a matter of procedure for payment of a construction bill, ended Friday night with an appeal by "large-school" members of the board for a compromise on a school building plan.

But four members of the board who support small high schools in each village in the district showed no indication of changing their policy set earlier this month.

Charles Bilderback, Beryl Beeghly, Orville Englehart and Bruce Wheeler advocate the small high schools, while Tom Gaskins, Joe Henry and Vernon Schnell have supported plans to build a large country high school to serve Ashton, Franklin Grove and Lee Center.

Schnell's Views

Schnell opened the discussion by saying, "In view of detachments and petitions, I wonder if something can still be done to pull the district out of the hole it is in."

He suggested that experts be called in from the State Department of Education to give their opinion of what would be best for the district. He said he didn't think it was too late to change plans, and "no one can be condemned for changing his mind, especially if it is at the advice of the State Department of Public Instruction."

The detachments Schnell referred to were the petition of the village of Scarboro to join the Shabbona district, the petition to take the Ashton area out of the district and the proposed petition to remove the Kingdom area.

Henry, who lives in the western area which is considering annexation to the Dixon district, said "Many of the people would rather stay here in 271 than go to Dixon, but I'm satisfied that a petition will be circulated if a Franklin Grove high school is built."

Henry suggested a large high school be built near the west edge of Ashton.

Englehart injected the comment that such a plan would be the "only one with a chance of passage."

Morale Damaged

Tom Gaskins pointed out the damage to school morale that he said has been the result of the district's probationary status with the state department. He criticized the small-school policy because, he said, the state report "says we are deficient on the high school level," and the building policy approved is aimed at the grade school level.

Bilderback commented, "Many people have read many things into that report."

Gaskins said time is working against the district, and, apparently referring to the Ashton detachment petition, said, "the longer such a movement rolls, the less chance there is that people will be satisfied with anything else."

Earlier in the meeting, the board approved a $12,930.30 payment to Sarver Construction Company for work done on the Franklin elementary school.

The board also voted to hire the law firm of Philip Nye and Gerald Fearer to represent it in matters concerning detachments from the district. Henry and Gaskins voted "No." Schnell passed, and the other members voted "Yes."

Speeding Down; So Are Accidents

Police Records Show Drop in Auto Mishaps

Police department figures show that auto accidents in Dixon were down more than 50 per cent during the first three weeks of Police Chief Earl Kelchner's crack down on speeders.

There were 38 accidents between April 1 and 24 but only 16 mishaps from April 25 to May 13. The number of accidents causing more than $100 damage was down almost two-thirds during the same period.

There were three mishaps involving bicycles or scooters during the first three-week period as compared to two during the period just completed.

Two persons were injured during each period for an average of about one every 10 days.

The number of accidents during the first period averaged 1.8 per day but only .8 per day during the second three weeks. The daily average for accidents during April and May of 1954 was 1.1.

On the other side of the ledger, 22 persons have been assessed fines and costs totaling $526.40 for speeding since the "crack-down" started—an average of $24 per offender. The fines were assessed at the rate of $1 per mile over the speed limit.

Kelchner added that he is pleased with the way traffic has slowed down to "safe driving speeds." He emphasized, however, that the department intends to maintain its campaign against the speeders.

Risky Job

LONDON (AP)—It's tough being a civil servant in Britain these days.

Tom Mullins, who works in the National Assistance relief Office, listed these aids to forceful argument used by visitors to government offices last year: a achythe, iron bars, chair legs, ink pots, fists and other weapons.

Mullins' motion calling for continued full pay for any officials laid low in the course of their duties was approved by the civil servants' conference here Friday without further debate.

Skull Fracture Victim 'Fair'

Nine-year-old Carol Ann McCrystal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCrystal, 920 Hennepin Ave., Dixon, today is still listed as in "fair" condition in Dixon KSB Hospital.

Her condition reportedly has improved slightly since she suffered a skull fracture Wednesday when she fell from her bicycle. She still is in a "semi-conscious" condition.

Fatally Hurt

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Naval Cadet Allan A. Oleson, 21, of Batavia, Ill., was fatally injured Thursday when a wing of his TV-2 jet trainer struck the ground and the plane cartwheeled. He was coming in for a landing at Kingsville Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

Molotov Carries Kremlin's Answer to Big Four Parley

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Russia's V. M. Molotov, flying here for the historic Austrian treaty signing, was expected to tell the Western foreign ministers today how the Kremlin feels about top level Big Four talks.

Secretary of State Dulles held a brief meeting this morning with British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and France's Antoine Pinay to prepare for a later conference with Molotov.

Western informants felt certain the poker-faced Soviet diplomat would seek a different sort of conference than that envisaged by the West for the Big Four heads of state this July.

The informants said word has trickled out of Moscow that Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin:

1. Is ready to accept the principle of the Western call to explore new trails of negotiation in quest of peace.

2. Prefess something more comprehensive than the West's idea for a three or four day conference between the heads of government, if they are to fulfill adequately the job of charting a course towards East-West understanding.

3. Intends to press demands that Red China be represented at such a conference.

Molotov is expected to discuss these and other East-West issues over a dinner arranged for tonight in the American embassy.

The four foreign ministers are officially gathered here for tomorrow's signing of the treaty which will pledge Austrian's the independence after 17 years military occupation.

Test Your Memory . . .

"A Saturday Night Historical Notebook," the Evening Telegraph's weekly feature on local history, is putting out a "help wanted" sign today.

We hope to enlist the aid of readers in identifying several hundred old engravings of local personalities. The engravings were uncovered recently in a dusty old file, and almost all are unidentified.

The "Notebook" will print a few of them each week in the hope that readers will be able to provide the identification. The first ones appear today on page 4. They include two dignified gentlemen and "Dixon's 28-inning Ball Team."

If you recognize any of these, please clip the picture and send it to the "Notebook" with your identification. All help will be acknowledged in the column.

President Pleased With New Flagpole at His Farm

GETTYSBURG, Pa., (AP) — Talk about a man being pleased-you should have seen President Eisenhower admire his new flag pole with the Stars and Stripes flying from it.

The pole, about 30 feet high, is on the spacious front lawn on the President's new country home here. The deep blue presidential flag flutters just below the national emblem.

A Gift

The pole is the gift of the Suffolk County Republican Club of New York State, and it had been put in place shortly before Eisenhower arrived from Washington Friday to spend the weekend and to help celebrate the 77th birthday of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver.

With a family group gathered around them, the chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower stood on the glass enclosed patio of their home while he talked to newsmen.

"I can't tell you how pleased I am about those flags," Eisenhower remarked.

He added it wasn't a very good day for them to be flying because of the steady rain. But he pointed to a gilded metal eagle atop the pole and said:

Tells Direction

"I'll have you know that eagle serves as weather vane and shows the direction of the wind."

Mrs. Eisenhower appeared to be completely recovered from the illness which had caused cancellation of all her engagements the last two weeks. The illness, described by the White House as the aftermath of a respiratory infection, started last March and became a political issue.

On the patio Friday, the First Lady was all smiles. She looked radiant and well rested.

The First Lady and her mother arrived at the Eisenhower farm Wednesday from Washington. The President drove here Friday afternoon.

The President plans to return to Washington Sunday evening.

CAP Alerted For Sunday Air Search

CHICAGO (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol has alerted some 900 members of the Illinois Wing to participate Sunday in a practice air search mission.

About 200 private planes, each carrying a pilot and observer, will join in the mission along with 200 communications personnel and 300 ground observers.

The Air Force will hide simulated plane wreckage somewhere in the state and the CAP will be ordered out to search for it as in an actual air disaster.

The main base of operations for the mission will be at Mt. Hawley Airport, Peoria, and a secondary base at Vandalia.

Former Dixon Athlete Gets Vandalia Term

OREGON — (Special) — A former Dixon high school athlete and Golden Gloves boxer, Ron Dockery, 19, Rt. 3, Oregon, Friday was sentenced to one year in the Vandalia state prison farm by County Judge Helen Rutkowski.

Judge Rutkowski handed down the sentence after Dockery pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault and battery. He admitted "beating up" Donald Steder, 26, Grand Detour, nearly a month ago in a fight.

Steder reportedly suffered a skull fracture, internal injuries and a broken jaw in a fight that resulted from a highway incident.

Dockery, who reportedly quit before graduating from Dixon high school, has a police record of a previous conviction on a similar charge.

Delores Hodges, Dan Etnyre Reign at Oregon Prom

By LILA HEUERMAN
Telegraph Correspondent

OREGON —(Special)— Delores Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hodges, was named queen of the Oregon High School prom Friday night. Dan Etnyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Etnyre, was king.

The queen's attendants were Carol DePorter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Urban DePorter Sr., and Arlene Ring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ring.

King's attendants were Lewis Rush Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rush Sr., and Earl "Butch" Masters Jr.

The king and queen and attendants are selected by the vote of the student body.

The theme of the prom was "Imagination," and the decorations were clever. Silver and rose were used throughout the gym. The decorations included several mobiles. Music was by Johnny Kaye and his orchestra of Peru.

Following the crowning of the queen by junior class president Tim Sassaman, the queen's dance and the dance by the court of the king and queen were held. The grand march was led by the king, queen, attendants and junior and senior class officers.

Advertising helped make the difference

FOLKS USED TO BUY refrigeration in fifty pound pieces. Frozen foods were unheard of . . . ice cubes an impossibility . . . and that drip pan under the ice box always seemed to be overflowing. Today, a silent, white-enameled ice man stands in millions of kitchens.

But to mass produce millions of refrigerators, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of people at one time.

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new refrigerators . . . and helps sell them. The more it sells, the more must be made — keeping the production lines and the jobs going. The result: newer, better appliances at prices more people can afford to pay. Advertising helped make the difference — in refrigerators, and in our American way of life.

Think Twice Before Making Important Furniture Buys

Look Ahead To Needs in The Future

By KAY SHERWOOD

Pause before you plunge into the purchase of furniture for your home. Especially if you're just married and your home needs expanding. Consider. You'll probably be living with the selections you make now for the next 10 years. When you start raising a family, there's little left in the budget to correct errors in judgment of furniture you bought.

When you pause what should you consider? The head of the furniture department in one of the midwest's greatest stores told me we'd make fewer errors if we had some plan to follow on paper. Have an idea of your tastes in color and style, what you really need, what you expect to inherit or acquire from parents and what you'd like to spend. As simple an item as knowing how large your room is can save you lots of grief.

White Elephant

Take a young homemaker I know as an object lesson. She fell in love with an eight foot long modern sofa upholstered in white. It was very well made and an exceptional bargain on sale. But when it was delivered it bulked like a white elephant in her moderately small living room. Keeping the snowy upholstery from losing the battle to soot takes half her housekeeping time.

Maybe your husband prefers that you make all the selections, but do consult him. He should try out an armchair for size before you buy it. Comfort in a chair is not only a matter of good construction but also how well the design is suited to an individual's height and weight. The deep-seated lounge chair often associated with masculine comfort may be awkward for a short-legged man to relax in.

Much of the new moderately priced furniture which blends contemporary and traditional styling has special appeal for young couples. It's easy to live with, adaptable to changes and well made to minimize upkeep and wear. It can be mixed with older family pieces or accessories.

Contemporary Design

One extensive collection for example designed by Merton Gershun is contemporary with a large dash of Colonial design added. Peg construction spindles, pewter hardware, rounded corners antiqued 'worm' spots and panel carvings are all traceable to furniture of an earlier era. Older days charm is enhanced by modern woodworkers.

Sectional sofas and the lounge chair have exposed wood frames with sloping arms and spindle backs. Some of the occasional tables and a two-tier server have tops of black plastic. Wood used is walnut finished in pewter gray.

Contemporary Colonial furniture is at home in either modern or traditional settings. Pewter-finished walnut is used for framework of sofas, chairs and tables, complemented by recessed pewter pulls in tables. Spindles and peg construction add authenticity. Upholstery is tweed, textured with a metallic thread. Black plastic top on coffee table is practical damage-resistance note.

ALL WOMAN JURY

The colonial trial of Judith Catchpole who was charged with infanticide is remembered in American history because the jury was composed entirely of women. It was the first all woman jury in the New World.

FIRST MODERN PLASTIC

First modern synthetic plastic was celluloid invented in 1869 by John Wesley Hyatt and his brother Isaiah who were looking for a substitute for ivory from which billiard balls could be made.

'White Houses' On Way Out

From bathroom fixtures to telephones to houses the swing today is to color, Faber Buren, noted color authority, reports.

"Fully 75 per cent of all painted houses were white about a decade ago. Today use of color has increased from about 25 per cent of the total to well over 50 per cent, and the percentage keeps rising.

Probably the most active color trend has been in asphalt shingle roofing. Here the technical laboratory has provided a whole new palette of pastel hues which have risen steadily in popularity to a point where they now are preferred by two persons out of five."

However the color consultant cites a survey of 1600 home owners in 12 widely scattered areas which indicates that deep toned red green gray and other traditional asphalt shingle colors remain the dominant choice for American roofs. The sole exception is pastel blue to which the survey gives a slight edge over medium blue shingles.

"The wide range of attractive roofing, siding, and paint colors now available enables the homeowner to give the house a complete, exciting new color scheme, from the roof right down to the windows, door and mail-box," Buren says.

Properly laid a thatched roof will last 15 to 25 years.

If you've got holes in your home plaster and want to repair without redoing the whole room, add food coloring to patching plaster to make it match the walls as closely as possible.

If there's trouble getting empty pastry shells off the tins after they're baked, try puting a paper pastry cup between the two.

If you want to keep a mirror from fogging apply a thin film of soap with a moist finger and polish with cloth or tissue.

A lovely mirror that's started to flake is a small tragedy. Most women feel they can't do anything about it but they can. Cover the peeling spot with tinfoil applied with shellac, glue or dark paint.

The wavelength of light determines its color.

More Emphasis Being Put on Good Wiring

The constant addition of new and improved electrical home appliances and increased emphasis on proper home light conditioning in recent years has created a definite need for homeowners and prospective home buyers to pay full heed to electric wiring adequacy.

Shortsightedness has resulted in a great many existing homes and even a good percentage of those currently going up, being equipped with a standard of wiring which fails to take into consideration either the full present-day potential or possible future power requirements.

This problem of adequate wiring recently was brought into focus by the National Adequate Wiring Bureau, an electrical industry group that has been advocating that higher minimum standards be set for electrical wiring commensurate with heavy power needs.

In fact the National Assn. of Home Builders in recognition of today's added power requirements in the electrically equipped home has adopted a voluntary minimum standard.

This has been set at a 100 ampere entrance service designed to meet not only the present homeowners needs but also to allow some leeway for those unforeseen additional power demands that may be expected to develop in the not too distant future judging from the rapid advances in all fields these days.

It is pointed out that the voluntary standard of 100 amperes will assure the householder of an electrical system providing sufficient power to support heavy duty circuits for air conditioning equipment, electric range, clothes dryer and the many other appliances as well.

Such home equipment because of its heavy power drain cannot be used where wiring meets only the existing 30 ampere minimum standard and 60 amperes offers little to spare for the future.

Here Are Tips to Heed When Hanging Wallpaper

By ANDREW C. LANG

DO . . . take the exact measurements of a room, including size of windows, doors, fireplaces, etc., and let your dealer figure out how much wallpaper will be needed.

DO . . . prepare the wall properly by filling in cracks, sandpapering any roughness and applying a 'sizing' to a freshly-plastered or painted wall.

DO . . . get the first strip of paper straight by using a plumb line and starting at a doorway, except when a room has a fireplace in which case center the first strip of paper above the fireplace.

DO . . . make a neat job around electric switch plates by turning off the current, removing the plates and papering over the openings, cutting out spaces slightly smaller than the areas covered by the plates.

DO . . . remember that wallpaper may be purchased untrimmed, trimmed with paste already on the back and with many special new features—so be sure to follow directions that come with the particular kind you buy.

DON'T . . . apply wallpaper directly over calcimined walls; wash off the calcimine thoroughly before sizing.

DON'T . . . attempt to mix the paste with a spoon or paddle, use an ordinary eggbeater for good results.

DON'T . . . forget that you can buy an inexpensive seam roller or caster for smoothing down the seams between strips for a tight joint.

DON'T . . . fail to learn whether the wallpaper you purchase can be washed or cleaned and, if so, how.

DON'T . . . throw away any leftover scrap pieces of paper, they'll come in handy when and if any patches are needed later on.

Gardener's Questions Answered

Q—Our flowering shrubs, planted a year ago, did not bloom last summer. Can you help us?

A—You are in too much of a hurry. Chances are that spring-blooming shrubs were planted at the time of, or after, their normal blooming season.

Q—Have a couple of acres of land that I want to set out to evergreens. Have been informed that the U. S. government furnishes free seedling trees for reforestation. Where and how do I get them?

A—Uncle Sam does not supply tree trees other than to restock national forests. However, you can purchase seedling evergreens from the Division of Forestry.

Ike Wins Victory on His Reciprocal Trade Bill

Since the senate-approved reciprocal trade bill contains stiffer protectionist features than the previously voted house measure, we may fairly assume that the proposal will get no more serious hacking before it reaches President Eisenhower's desk.

As endorsed by the senate, the bill is a compromise between the president's liberalizing trade plans and the high tariff protectionism urged vigorously by many lawmakers.

Yet, as has been noted before, the palm belongs more to Mr. Eisenhower than to the high tariff bloc. For the generalized amendments which were the principal concessions to protectionism were not the specific import restrictions

And even those changes which were adopted leave final-

the objectors desired.

ly to the president's discretion the question whether to impose import quotas or act otherwise to shield American industry from foreign competition.

On top of this the president won three important battles. First, he gained a three-year extension of the trade law instead of the usual one-year renewal. In recent years all efforts to achieve longer extensions than a year had failed.

He gained the power to make tariff reductions of five per cent per year on most trade items for the next three years.

tariffs which now are above that rate.

And he will also be able to reduce to 50 per cent any

The only victory on specific items won by the president's opposition was an amendment that it designated to safeguard the textile and chemical industries by banning cuts in duties on Japanese products more than 50 per cent below levels prevailing in 1945.

The textile restrictions might have been far more sweeping but for the thorough job done by Senator Gore of Tennessee in showing the true effects of foreign trade on the textile field.

Documenting his argument fully with statistics and other evidence, he demonstrated that the industry's difficulties cannot be blamed on textile imports, that on the contrary, it benefits substantially from the exports which other lands can only pay for by selling in this country.

The chronically sick coal industry could not make out a case, either, for blaming all its ills on oil imports.

This was a triumph for Mr. Eisenhower. But many would say it is a victory for the national interest, on the theory that the American economy will be stronger in the long run if it is trading actively with other nations and thus boosting their economic health and staying power.

One-Minute Reviews Describe New Books at Dixon Library

Psychical Research Today, by Donald J. West. Although brief, this is an authentic resume of the subject, including hypnotism, spiritualism and the extra sensory perception experiments conducted at Duke University.

Great Experiments in Psychology, by Henry Edward Garrett. A history of psychology told by way of the famous experiments.

The Hill, by Victor Chapin. A conscientious objector relates his experiences at The Hill, as he called it, where he was assigned in lieu of military service The Hill was an institution for the insane.

Calypso, by John R. Crawford. "How to play and win the fascinating new card game."

Onions in the Stew, by Betty MacDonald. The author of "The Egg and I" has done it again! A new, and equally funny book about herself and her family.

Chiang Kai-shek, by Emily Hahn. The author subtitles this, "an unauthorized biography." It is intimate and personal as it would be from the pen of Emily Hahn. She, of course, knew both the Generalissimo and Mme. Chiang With the fate of Formosa constantly in the news this book should be doubly interesting, to those with international interest as well as to Miss Hahn's fans

Danger Is My Destiny, by George Black Orsborne. Captain "Dod" tells the yarns of his highly colorful career as a pearl diver, whaler, tiger hunter.

Fiction

Man on Spikes, by Eliot Asinof. A novel of professional baseball. Mike Kutner, a brilliant ball player, struggled sixteen years to reach the big time.

To Each His Dream, by Sara Ware Bassett. The story of a man whose great love was novel-writing until he met a real girl and really fell in love.

The Case of the Sun-Bather's Diary, by Erle Stanley Gardner. Needs no comment.

Yonder, by Margaret Bell Houston. A suspense novel of atmosphere in the tradition of "Rebecca."

Mamma, by Diana Tutton. Good-humored satire in an unusual triangle—a mother-in-law falls in love with her daughter's husband!

Too Soon to Die, by Henry Wade, pseud. A superior mystery.

Children's Books

Trails West and Men Who Made Them, by Edith Dorian & W. N. Wilson. A beautiful book of the early history of the movement west in the United States, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Cowboys and Cattle Trails, by Shannon Garst. A title in the American Adventure Series, this is a biography of John Benjamin Kendrick. It doesn't really matter, the story is the early West, cattle, and ranch life.

Our Lady of Guadalupe, by Helen Rand Parish. A lovely book, telling the story of the miracle of the Virgin at Guadalupe.

James Fenimore Cooper, by Gertrude Winders. A story of the Leatherstocking Boy; one of the famous "Childhood of Famous Americans"

Adventures and Discoveries of Marco Polo, by Richard J. Walsh. Marco Polo is one of the world's most famous travelers, and this book about him, in the popular World Landmark series, will appeal to both boys and girls.

Fiction

A Bow in the Cloud, by Margherita Fanchiotti. One of the best books for children published in 1954. A beautiful story of Noah, the Ark and the rainbow after the flood.

The Tree-House Watch, by Laura Kent Klyce A mystery story for the 'tween-agers, between 8-13

Rosemary Wins Her Cap, by Zillah K. Macdonald. A story of Nurses and nursing, of course. For older girls

Hunter's Hill, by May Nickerson Wallace. A story of Boy Scouts for older Boy Scouts.

STRAY LEAVES FROM THE NOTEBOOK—Back in a corner of one of The Evening Telegraph offices we have uncovered a dusty old file of engravings. There are men and women by the dozens, groups and buildings—all of them unidentified

We'd like to enlist our readers' help in determining the identity of the people in these pictures. If you recognize any of those printed today, please clip it and send it to us with your identification. We'll acknowledge the replies here, and if we have some success, you'll see more of them later.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS DEPARTMENT—Did you know that Dixon's founder is said to have been the first man to buy a steamboat ticket The "History of Dixon and Palmyra," published in 1880, reported that when Robert Fulton took his first successful steamboat up the Hudson River in 1807 " . John Dixon was a passenger and paid the great inventor of steamboats the first money as fare ever received as a return for his immense expenses and time. So it was our own Father Dixon, who paid the first steamboat fare ever paid; who was the first patron of steam, that now earns, every moment, its millions of dollars"

The history also reported, "Fulton at first refused to receive the money, but Father Dixon with his inate principles of justice, insisted that he should, and it was only by his determination to be just that gave him the satisfaction of being honored, as we said"

From a Washington School Junior Historian we have the following:

Grand Detour's Historic Chapel

By LAUREL CAPPA

The small village of Grand Detour, which lies in the "Great Bend" of the Rock River, is the proud possessor of the second oldest church in the Diocese of Chicago—Saint Peter's Chapel. In 1845 Grand Detour was a fast growing community and had the prospects of becoming a metropolis. So when the Domestic Missionary Society sent the Rev. Abraham Joseph Warner to select a location for an Episcopal church, Grand Detour was chosen.

The parish of Saint Peter's was organized May 15, 1847. Although a lot had already been secured and plans for a stone church made, church members lacked funds. Immediately a building fund was started and the ladies' sewing society paid for the first $100 worth of lumber for the interior and steeple The ground was finally broken on June 17, 1849, and the cornerstone laid on July 17 of the same year The stone for the church was from a local limestone quarry. In 1852 the church was consecrated by Bishop Whitehouse.

When the railroad was built, bypassing Grand Detour and going to Dixon, the size and population of Grand Detour dwindled For many years the Grand Detour church was only used occasionally

William Andrus repaired the church in 1907 and during the summer months afternoon services were conducted by Rev. Albert Whitcombe, rector of Saint Luke's in Dixon. Upon his retirement in 1931, he was named priest-in-charge at Saint Peter's and conducted regular services until his death in 1934 He is buried in the churchyard beneath the outdoor altar The Rev DeVon Ellis and the Rev. B. Norman Burke were subsequent pastors.

During the winter of 1947 the entire ceiling fell and extensive repairs were necessary. Through the contributions of many generous people and the efforts of Frederick Garner, custodian of Saint Peter's, this historical structure is now open for public worship during the summer months.

It is now a chapel of Saint Luke's Episcopal parish of Dixon under the Very Rev. Vernon L. S. Jones St Peter's and its picturesque setting clearly illustrate the strong spirit of the pioneers of the midwest.

Questions and Answers

Q—Why are letters from the Pope to Catholic churches referred to as "Papal bulls"?

A—The name "bull" comes from the seal used on the letter, called a "bulla." This is a round piece of lead, on one side of which are impressed the heads of Saint Peter and Saint Paul. On the other side is the name of the reigning Pope.

Q—What John Paul Jones tradition was restored in the Navy in 1954?

A—Officers began wearing swords on formal occasions. They had been laid aside during World War II.

Q—Who occupied the first brick house in America?

A—William Penn.

Q—When was natural gas first used for light in the United States?

A—At Fredonia, N. Y., about 1824.

Q—Were American Indians drafted in World War II?

A—Yes, thousands of Indian young men were drafted They distinguished themselves in all theaters of war.

Q—Do bats migrate?

A—Some of the northern bats fly south when winter begins. Others hibernate inside the hollow trees, caves and buildings where they make their homes.

The Doctor Says

Ruptures or Hernias Can Develop in Other Areas Than in the Groins

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Although most ruptures or hernias occur around the groin they can develop in other places, as witness today's first question.

Q—After my third baby I developed a ruptured navel. It does not bother me but my stomach muscles are lax and my abdomen protrudes. Can exercises help or should I have an operation?
—Mrs. S.

A—A rupture in this location in an infant sometimes disappears after taping. In an older person it seems unlikely that exercises or anything else of that sort would cure the rupture, and if it is bad enough or gives trouble an operation would be the choice procedure.

Q—I have been told that I have spurs on my heel bones on both feet. Is there any treatment other than operation which might be advised? —E. K.

A—Most doctors would say that if these spurs were giving no symptoms they should be left alone. I do not know of any effective treatment other than operation, and operation itself has had many failures as well as successes. If I had painful spurs I would not have an operation unless the pain was unbearable and could not be relieved by conservative measures.

Q—What is your opinion about a woman of 45 in good health having another child? She has one 11½ years old. Does childbirth at this late age jeopardize the health of the mother or could there be a normal delivery? —Mrs S.

A—The decision must be a personal matter. Many women of 45 have a child successfully without apparent harm to their health or that of the child; a normal delivery is quite possible. There is perhaps a slightly greater risk for the mother and child in the latter years of the child-bearing period, but with modern obstetrical methods this is far less than it used to be.

Q—Is it possible for the children of parents of mixed white and Negro blood to be darker than the darker parent? —Mrs. C.

A—Yes, the laws of heredity do make this possible.

Q—Every day after I bathe I massage my entire body with a lotion containing natural estrogenic hormones My friends tell me this is unwise. What do you think?
—Mrs. M.

A—If there is any reason why you need extra hormones they should probably be given to you in a more scientific fashion. If you do not need them your present procedure seems wasteful both of time and money.

* * *

Q—Is it true that if one has headaches in the back of the head that someday one will have a brain hemorrhage? —Mrs. E.

A—It is not true.

Vacation 'Roughing It' Means Bad Times for Mom

When the man of the family starts talking about the family's "roughing it" on their vacation this year the lady of the house usually shudders delicately.

Not because she isn't as appreciative of the beauty of the great outdoors as is her man. Or because she doesn't get just as big a thrill out of landing a bass as any member of the family.

Nope, she shudders for just one reason. When the rest of the family talk blithely of "roughing it" Mom knows that she will be the one who has it rough.

She'll have to put the house in order after the family has torn it apart looking for odd pieces of camping equipment and clothes stored away for years.

MOM'S WORK IS NEVER DONE

She'll have to listen while Dad fumes and frets because there is three times as much camping paraphernalia as will fit into the trunk of the car.

And once the camping site has been reached it is Mom who will be cooking the fish—no matter who caught them. It is Mom who will be struggling to heat water in which to wash dishes. Mom who will have to improvise some way of washing the family's clothes.

It is Mom who will have to keep a supply of food on hand to meet the terrific appetites of a family happily roughing it in the woods

It is Mom who will have to watch after the youngest child while Pop is out catching more fish for her to fry.

There is only one good thing about a vacation in the wilds for the average wife and Mother. And that is getting home to her washing machine, her beautiful kitchen range and water that comes out of a faucet, either hot or cold.

Adviser Pilgrim Tells News About 4-H 5 Year Club

By JUNE PILGRIM
Lee County Home Adviser

Some of you have heard about our new County 4-H club called the five-year Room Plan Four girls, Rosemary Schuster, daughter of Mr and Mrs Joseph Schuster, Rt 1, Dixon; Mary Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs James Pierce, Rochelle, Joyce Grobe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs John Grobe, Dixon, and Kay Fulfs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fulfs, Dixon, are undertaking this room improvement project which will take five years to complete

June Pilgrim

The idea is to completely refurnish one room in the house following a long range plan covering everything from the walls to the lighting The girls, with the cooperation of their parents, are all doing bedrooms The full cooperation of parents is necessary in a project like this so that the mothers attend the monthly meetings along with the girls

The five-year Room Plan project is broken into five main sections, one for each year. They are: (1) wall finishes, (2) floor and floor coverings, (3) window treatment, (4) furnishings, and (5) rearrangement of furniture This year the girls are working on the wall finishes

The last meeting of the five-year Room Plan was held at Rosemary Schuster s. We learned about the use of color in the home.

Often the key to a drab or beautiful room is the basic color on the wall surfaces Color actually creates moods and intangible impressions. It can create illusions of size and shape Colors have to be arranged in planned schemes before they are effective. Yellow's, red s, and blue's are used together in all good schemes, but may not appear in the pure color. For instance, greens oranges and browns are mixtures of these three good plan shows restraint and balance in the number of colors used yet has enough variety to give interest

Basic Plan

One way to start planning a basic color plan is to select some painting, a drapery, or a figured rug or wallpaper which you especially like and which you plan to keep for a long time Study it to discover the colors used in it and select one to be predominate. For a three color scheme use a large amount of the main color in many places around the room, a smaller amount of a second color, and a little of a third which may be quite bright

You combine colors by having a basic color present in all For instance, yellow is present in yellow-orange, yellof brown, yellow-grey, yellow-green, and green-yellow. Another way to get colors to go together harmoniously is to avoid strong contrasts such as pale colors with dark ones. It's better to use various shades of dark colors together, or tones of bright colors together.

Another way to create a color scheme is start with a favorite color, then select other colors that are tinted a little with this favorite color

A third way to create a color scheme is to use together dull, soft shades of yellow blues, and reds because when these colors are greyed or dulled, they harmonize with each other

A fourth way is to use greyed hues of constrasting hues as red and green blue and orange Decide on one or the other color to be the main one

Now comes the problem of how to use the colors The largest areas, the walls are better in softer, greyed tones whether light or dark. The furniture may vary and the small objects such as cushions, vases and pictures can be brighter The room looks best when the color of the walls and draperies are not too different in tone

The room becomes a unit when the scheme is repeated in all parts of it There should be one color scheme throughout the whole house. If your scheme includes grey peach and yellow let grey predominate in the living room, yellow in the kitchen, and peach in the dining room with small touches of the other.

I said before color can create illusion, a high ceiling appears lower when it's color matches the color of the walls it is a little darker than the walls a warm tone as red is used or the darker color is brought down on the wall about a foot Use lighter colors to raise the ceiling A square room is made larger when one wall is contrasted with the other

Our next meeting is going to be in Vandenberg s Paint Store Dixon at 4 30 p m the 20th of the month Mr Vandenberg is going to show wallpaper, wallboard, and paint, and explain the latest fashions.

Great Books

The third year Great Books discussion group will meet at 8 p m Tuesday May 17, in Loveland Community House Mrs George Nichols and Mrs R E Erikson will be the leaders The book to be discussed is 'Civil Disobedience, A Plea For Capt John Brown' by Henry David Thoreau.

Obituaries

HERBERT CROUCH

BUFFALO, N. Y. —(Special)— Herbert E. Crouch, 92, the first general agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. for Western New York, died Saturday (April 30, 1955) in Buffalo General Hospital.

He was an agent for Northwestern Mutual for three years in Chicago and came to Buffalo as general agent in 1899.

He moved to Redlands, Calif., in 1941, living there until his wife, the former Grace Flint, died in 1951. Mr. Crouch then returned to Buffalo.

In 1912, Mr. Crouch built an estate at 4380 Main St., which now is the site of Rosary Hill College.

More than 10,000 returning servicemen were placed in jobs by the City Replacement Committee of which Mr. Crouch was chairman after World War I.

Active in Erie County Republican Party affairs, Mr. Crouch conducted several fund-raising activities and served in the electoral college at President Harding's election.

He was treasurer and a director of the YMCA of Buffalo & Erie County from 1936 until 1941. A member of Trinity Episcopal Church, he also was a member of the lodge of the Ancient Landmarks 441, F&AM.

He was a former member of the Buffalo Club, the Buffalo Country Club, the Niagara Falls Country Club and the Buffalo Rotary Club.

Mr. Crouch had made his home in Hotel Westbrook with a niece, Mrs. Dorothy Green. He is survived by several other nieces and a nephew.

Mr. Crouch was an uncle of John Flint Dille, Evanston, whose father was Prof. Dille, head of the former Dixon College.

Chapel services were held Monday, May 9, in Trinity Episcopal Church, Buffalo. Burial services will be held within several weeks in the family plot in Oakwood cemetery, Dixon.

Franklinite Loses Toe in Accident

FRANKLIN GROVE —(Special) —Dale Bennett, 22, received a serious foot injury Thursday evening in a power lawn mower. The large toe on his right foot was cut off. He was taken to KSB Hospital, and was released on Friday.

ESCAPE ATTEMPT FAILS—David Donovan, 20, of Boston, wrestles away from captors after being removed from the roof of the Concord Reformatory where he and four prisoners were discovered attempting to escape at Concord, Mass. Richard Hanson, 14, step-son of Lester Freeman, deputy superintendent of the reformatory, spotted the five men on the roof of the administration building and gave the alarm. Firefighters are assisting police who are bringing the prisoners down aerial ladders at left. (AP Wirephoto)

Call Death Of Heir an 'Accident'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Police say that Thomas W. Warner Jr., 40-year-old heir to an auto parts fortune died as the result of an accidental fall.

But his fourth wife, estranged but not divorced, said through her attorney she wants an inquest to determine whether Warner met death through foul play.

Her lawyer said she is hiring private detectives to check Warner's activities and companions in the hours preceding his death early Friday.

Warner, whose father developed the Borg Warner Co., was found dead—his neck broken—at the foot of a 12-foot embankment on his mother's Pasadena estate.

Police said he apparently plunged through a gap in a hedge along the estate's driveway at the top of the bank.

Marietta Mordue, 36, of South Pasadena, said she let Warner out of her car about 2 a.m. Friday. She said he had been drinking and that he stumbled once into the hedge—but then got up.

"He seemed all right," she told detectives. "I told him to go in the house and go to bed. Then I went away."

Mrs. Anita Lipton Warner, fourth wife of the heir, had just returned from a Bahamas vacation. She has been receiving $600 monthly separate maintenance. Her attorney, S. S. Hahn, said that Warner's estate may exceed two million dollars.

Chicagoans Hurt in Ogle County Crash

Four Chicagoans were injured, two seriously, late Friday when the car in which they were riding reportedly left the road near the Ogle-Carroll County line at the junction of Rts. 52 and 64.

State Policeman Gale Brown, DeKalb, estimated the damage to the car at $3,800. The injured were taken to Dixon KSB Hospital. The conditions and extent of injuries:

Robert Blythe, 31, is listed as in "good" condition with possible fractured ribs.

George Chapes, 37, is listed as in "good" condition with an abrasion of the right elbow and a bruised left eye.

The driver, John E. Chapes, 31, and the remaining passenger, Augustine Tartol, 23, were treated for minor injuries.

The State Police was unable to furnish details concerning the single-car crash. The mishap was reported at 9:30 p.m.

Rex Obeys Royal Order

WINDSOR, England (AP)—Rex is an English sheepdog who doesn't like ram, but will obey a royal command.

Rex was taking part in the dog parade at the royal house show here Friday. It began to pour and Rex scuttled into the royal enclosure where Queen Elizabeth II was seated.

His master called him back. Kennell boys whistled at him. But Rex remained at the Queen's feet.

"Rex," said the Queen, "go back to the pack."

Rex went back.

Jaycee Road-e-o Set for May 21

Plans are now complete for the second annual Dixon Junior Chamber of Commerce's Teen-Age Road-e-o to be held Saturday, May 21, on the north side of the high school according to Cecil Kellen, Jaycee publicity chairman.

Cash prizes of $10, $5 and $2.50 will be awarded to the drivers displaying the top driving skill and knowledge of road regulations. The winner will advance to the state contest in Peoria where scholarships and a trip to the national contest is at stake.

All youths possessing a driver's license and under 20 years of age are eligible. The only disqualifying requirement is that the youth must not have had an accident nor been arrested for a traffic offense in the last six months.

Teen-agers wishing to enter the contest are to register by 4 p.m. Wednesday with William Zinnen at the high school. There is no entry fee.

A written test will be given all entrants after school Wednesday. The score attained will be included in the youth's driving skill score Saturday.

Kellen said the driving skills test, which includes backing, parking, stopping, obstacle driving, etc., is scheduled to start about 9 a.m. Cars will be furnished.

John W. Miller Heart Victim, Inquest Rules

A Lee County Coroner's jury today ruled that John W. Miller, 55, Dixon, who was found dead Friday afternoon in his Lincoln Avenue home, died a natural death caused by coronary thrombosis.

The inquest was held at 9:30 a.m. today in the Preston Funeral Home by Coroner Robert Preston.

Funeral services for Mr. Miller will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the funeral home with the Rev. Fred Cunningham officiating. Burial will be in the Emmert cemetery, Nachusa.

Mr. Miller's body was found on the kitchen floor by Laval Shank, 1017 Nachusa Ave., Dixon. Shank reportedly was returning a suit borrowed from Glen Layman, with whom Miller had been living.

Mr. Miller had been under a physician's care for a heart condition, Preston explained. He is survived by his father, Edward, and a sister, Mrs. Paul Bothe, both of Dixon; and a daughter, Mrs. Orville Carr, Oregon.

Black Cats Get Friday 13th Feast

CHICAGO (AP)—The Anti-Cruelty Society snapped its fingers at superstition Friday the 13th Friday by throwing a sardine and catnip party for its eight black cats.

J. J. Shaffer, society director, said it would have been more appropriate had there been 13 black cats for the celebration. But the society didn't have that many.

Strike Oil In Middle Of River

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — An Illinois oil driller has brought in the first oil struck below the Ohio River north of its midpoint.

All money from oil produced in the well tapped by Owen Sharp of Mount Carmel, Ill., has been impounded under an agreement between Sharp and the Carter Oil Co., which holds a lease from Henderson County.

The well, with a production of 250 barrels a day is opposite Diamond Island in Henderson County. It is on a site first developed by Carter last summer.

The question of whether state or its counties is entitled to river-bottom oil rights is pending in federal court in Owensboro.

Sharp reached oil by directional drilling from the Indiana bank on a Carter site. The well curves under the river a distance of 350 feet. Its depth is approximately 2,400 feet.

Ownership of the well will be determined by the federal court suit.

Texas Rangers Prowl Vice Centers in 'Open' Galveston

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas Rangers were reported on the prowl along Galveston's joy areas today as Mayor-elect George Roy Clough faced more opposition in his expressed desire to reopen the Island City's red light district.

Clough said after his election last Tuesday he would allow storied old Post Office St., to reopen in order "to get the prostitutes out of the downtown hotels."

But Dist. Atty. Marsene Johnson Jr. and Police Commissioner Walter L. Johnston said they would not allow it. The district attorney and police officials were backed by the Galveston Ministerial Assn.

Clough, owner-operator of Radio Station KLVF, reiterated a post-election statement that "Christ couldn't do away with prostitution, why should I try?"

State Steps In

A report that the rangers were in town indicated that the state might also seek to prevent reopening of Post Office St.

Rangers Hardy Purvis and Eddie Oliver were said to be looking around. But Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Rangers and the State Police, said from Austin that if they were here "I don't know anything about it."

Again, Garrison answered "no comment" when asked how and if he planned to enforce the law in Galveston.

"Of course not," Garrison answered when asked if a city could operate on its own as an open town. Clough said he also would allow gambling to operate in this Gulf island resort city, 50 miles south of Houston, but would not condone slot machines, mere possession of which is against Texas law.

"Galveston is a wide open town and is going to remain that way," Clough told reporters. But payoffs, he said, must stop. He charged in a nine-months radio campaign that payoffs in the city were widespread. Mayor Herbert Y. Cartwright Jr. and other city officials said they knew nothing of Clough's charges.

Prostitution and all forms of gambling are against the law in Texas, but both have reportedly operated in Galveston with little interference. State police officials repeatedly have said Galveston's vice and gambling were "closed down."

See Quick Approval of Gen. Taylor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speedy Senate confirmation appeared likely today for President Eisenhower's nomination of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as Army chief of staff.

Taylor, now Far East commander, was picked by Eisenhower Friday to succeed Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway when the latter retires June 30, a month and a half before his two-year term as chief of staff would expire.

Ridgway, who has been critical of the Eisenhower program to cut back the ground forces, said there was "no significance whatsoever" in the announcement now of his request for retirement.

He said he has "plans to keep busy" but added he couldn't announce his plans now.

He has not denied persistent reports that he will become a corporation executive after his retirement.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate armed services committee, who has sympathized with Ridgway's opposition to cutting military manpower, said he was sorry to see Ridgway go. He said Ridgway had "won the respect and confidence of Congress."

But Russell said that in choosing Taylor, Eisenhower had picked "one of the best soldiers we have and a man who will make an excellent chief of staff."

Arrest Mother After Daughter Dives From Train

HAWTHORNE, N. Y. (AP) — A 56-year-old woman, whose blonde daughter plunged to her death from a speeding Chicago — New York Express Friday, was placed under arrest early today on charges of vagrancy and possession of a dangerous weapon.

Mrs. Celia P. Freeman, of New York City, was picked up Friday wandering along the railroad tracks near here, only several miles from where police found her dying daughter, Mrs. Ruth Papazian, 24.

Police said the older woman jumped from New York Central's Pacemaker as the train slowed to 10 miles an hour at the Harmon Station, just south of Peekskill.

She apparently wanted to hasten to the younger woman, who had plunged earlier while the train was traveling faster.

Both women had been seen quarreling bitterly since they left Denver, Colo., and were asked to leave one train at East Cleveland, Ohio. The younger woman was described as having had suicidal tendencies.

Police said they found in Mrs. Freeman's bag a 4-inch carving knife.

They also said her story lacked coherence.

WILBUR MAVES

Wilbur Maves, 802 E. Morgan Street, veteran operating employe of Public Service Company's generating station here celebrated his 30th year with the utility on May 11.

Since he began his career with the Illinois Northern Utilities Company in 1925, Maves has been associated with electric generating activities in the utility's local power plants.

A past master of the Masonic Lodge of Lee Center, Maves is a member of the American Legion Post in Dixon. His favorite diversion is gardening.

Living at the Morgan Street address with Maves and his wife, Ruth, are a son, Wilbur Jr., and a daughter, Judith. The Maveses also have three married sons who reside in Dixon with their families. They are Sheldon, Theodore and Arthur.

Britain Calm Over Red Talks With Yugoslavs

LONDON (AP)— Britain viewed the Moscow-Tito talks today as an "understandable move" by the Yugoslavs to improve relations with the Soviet Union, just as the western powers are doing.

A Foreign Office spokesman, answering reporters' questions, commented that the West was seeking to improve its relations with Moscow through Big Four talks. He added: "It is natural that the Yugoslavs take similar steps."

Britain and the United States have already been assured by the Yugoslav foreign office that no change in relations with Western countries is contemplated.

But there are those who note that if the Soviet leaders' trip to Belgrade results in neutralizing Tito further in the cold war, there will be a 600-mile wide neutral strip across the militarily important Alps from Hungary to the French-Swiss frontier. It would include newly-independent Austria, Yugoslavia and Switzerland.

In Vienna, this was regarded as explaining Russia's sudden decision to give Austria its freedom and why the Kremlin bosses are going to see Tito, bitterly denounced for his independence of the Soviet Union while Stalin was top man.

Demo Chief Blasts Serum Situation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler today accused the Eisenhower administration of "mishandling" the Salk polio vaccine situation.

Butler spoke of "heartbreaking confusion" and said "a thorough government inspection in the beginning could have avoided this confusion."

The Democratic chairman struck out at the administration on this and other counts in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio.

He said U. S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele, head of the public health service, "has proclaimed his faith in the vaccine and no one will quarrel with his recommendation for a more thorough check."

"But it is difficult to understand," Butler added. ". . . why the government didn't take the leadership in the beginning and thus avoid the mishanding that has occurred. . ."

Firemen Douse Fire in Auto

Dixon firemen were called at 11:52 p.m. Friday to the corner of Chamberlin Street and Galena Avenue to extinguish a car fire. The fire was apparently caused when the car was driven with the emergency brake on. The brake lining reportedly was burned out. The car is owned by Leonard Bowers, 112 E. Chamberlin St., Dixon.

Traffic Court

Police Magistrate Lawrence Boos Friday fined Joseph K. Fielding, 20, Franklin Grove, $15 for speeding. The youth was arrested Friday by Officer Ray Wilson for driving 35 miles an hour on the Galena Avenue bridge.

Accountant Held for Forgery

CHICAGO (AP) - William M. Brantman, a Chicago accountant, was free on $2,500 bond today after being charged with forging and cashing stolen government securities totaling $65,000.

Brantman, 62, whose clients have included some former members of the old Capone gang, was arrested Friday by the Secret Service in his LaSalle street office.

Harry D. Anheier, head of the Secret Service in Chicago, said the forged securities were part of $90,000 in government bonds stolen Jan. 2, 1954, in a burglary at the Plainville Machine Works at Plainville, Ind. Also taken in the burglary was $2,000 cash.

Anheier said Brantman began cashing the securities most of them $1,000 denomination "E" bonds, last August at the Belmont National Bank of Chicago, where he has an account. The $65,200 total was reached in a number of transactions with the bank.

The securities were forged with the signatures of Charles E. England, head of the Plainville firm, and a notary public and with Brantman's signature as a witness.

Anheier said Brantman related the bonds were brought to him by a man who wanted to cash them so he could buy lamps from a manufacturer. Brantman said the man told him he had been sent by one of Brantman's clients.

A spokesman for the bank said Brantman had turned over property valued at $21,000, including $18,000 cash, life insurance policies, his wife's mink coat and jewelry. He said the bank will not suffer any loss.

Brantman was a witness before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee in Chicago in 1951. He testified at that time that he had done tax relief work for Paul (The Waiter) Ricca and Louis (Little New York) Campagna, ex-Capone mobsters.

Kiddyland Rocked by Bomb Blast

CHICAGO (AP)— A black powder bomb exploded in the middle of the Kiddyland Amusement Park near suburban Maywood early today, the third bombing of buildings in the Chicago area this week.

The blast at the amusement park at 8400 W. North Ave., rocked buildings and rides, with a restaurant suffering most of the damage. Arthur E. Fritz, the owner, estimated damage at $5,000. No one was injured.

Sgt. John Peters of the state police said it was a black powder bomb and it was thrown between a merry-go-round and the restaurant. The explosion blew out nine windows and several doors of the restaurant. A refreshment stand also was damaged. Peters said Fritz told him he could give no motive for the bombing.

Earlier this week, bombs shattered the front door and windows of a wholesale merchandising firm on the southwest side and a plush restaurant on the far north side. Two persons were injured in the restaurant bombing.

Commit Youth After He Tries Suicide Friday

OREGON—(Special)—An Oregon youth, Jerry Johnston, 17, was committed to Elgin state hospital Friday after he slashed his wrists with a razor blade.

Johnston told the Rev. Louis Brenning, pastor of German Ebenezer Church, about noon Friday that he intended to take his own life. The minister tried to hold him but failed. He called the Ogle County sheriff's office.

The minister went to the home of Johnston's sister, Mrs. William Jacobs, Byron, and he and Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs went to the home of Johnston's brother, Richard, in Stillman Valley.

The youth was found, his wrists cut, in a garage behind the home.

After medical treatment, he was committed to the state hospital. Johnston reportedly had spent eight months in service, and had returned home recently with a medical discharge.

Truck Kills Cattle on Route 30

A passenger car and a truck were damaged and three cows were killed late Friday in a freak highway mishap that occurred three miles west of Rt. 52 on Rt. 30.

According to Sheriff John Stouffer, an eastbound truck driven by William Lambert, Rock Island, struck and killed three cows owned by LeRoy Zinke, Rt. 2, Amboy.

The truck's impact knocked one of the cows into the westbound lane and into the path of a car driven by Harold Bowen, Lyndon. Bowen's car was damaged and had to be towed away. The mishap occurred about 10 p.m.

Mantle Hits Three Homers

Yanks Top Tigers; Bums Rap Braves; Giants, Bosox Win

By The Associated Press

Some of the pitching arms may be getting weary and some of the joints creaky on the once mighty New York Yankees, but the spirit of Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio breathes on.

Mickey Mantle, the phlegmatic, boyish-looking Oklahoman who was marked prematurely for baseball greatness, rekindled memories of the Yankees' most prodigous hitting feats with three home runs Friday which dazed the Detroit Tigers 5-2.

Using borrowed bats and a "don't-kill-the-ball" technique suggested by Manager Casey Stengel, the 23-year-old switch-hitter struck two from the left side of the plate and the third from the right.

He became the first American League player to hit home runs from alternate sides and the third player in major league history to accomplish the unique act. Jim Russell of Brooklyn did it in 1950 and Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1951.

Snap Losing Streak

Mantle's one-man wrecking job dulled all other developments of a major league program chopped in half by four postponements because of widespread rain and unseasonable cold.

The quick-starting Brooklyn Dodgers forestalled any panic and snapped a two-game losing streak by whacking Milwaukee 6-2 on home runs by Junior Gilliam and Roy Campanella. Another well-known center fielder, Willie Mays, put a shot out of the park in the 10th inning to give the New York Giants a 4-3 triumph over St. Louis.

The Boston Red Sox won a weird, rain-plagued game from Kansas City 4-3 in which the winning run was walked home in the ninth. Kansas City Manager Lou Boudreau played the game under protest, contending play was resumed after an hour and 23 minute delay before rain had stopped.

Four Rained Out

Inclement weather idled two National League parks—Philadelphia at Cincinnati and Pittsburgh at Chicago—and, showing no favorites, did the same to the American. The Cleveland at Washington and Chicago at Baltimore games were rained out.

This permitted greater focusing on Mantle's slugging exhibition at Yankee Stadium.

But Yankee fans couldn't hide their glow. And the only questions reverberated again. Is this his year? Has Mickey finally come into his own? Is the Yankees' "Golden Boy" at last the nugget he was supposed to be?

He has had his great moments, such as the 565-foot home run in Washington in the spring of 1953, and his low ones, such as the four strikeouts in on egame of the 1953 World Series after which he cried. But he has not been able to deliver on a sustained scale.

Lacks Drive

He has been hobbled by a trick knee, injured in the second game of the 1951 World Series. Some say he hasn't reached maturity. Others say he lacks the fierce competitive drive of Cobb, DiMaggio and Williams.

Mantle's home runs Friday came in the first, fifth and eighth innings —the first with Andy Carey on base—and all of them landed in the same section of the right center field bleachers. The second one travelled 430 feet by actual measurement.

The first two were hit lefthanded off righthander Steve Gromek. The third, from the other side of the plate, was made off lefty Bob Miller. Mickey also singled home another run to account for all the Yankee scores, which brought Whitey Ford his fourth mound victory.

Crandall Homers

Mays' game-clinching home run for the Giants was his seventh of the season and saved a well-pitched game by John McCall, who replaced Don Liddle in the third and gave up only two hits through the last eight innings. Harvey Haddix was the victim.

Gilliam and Campanella packaged their Brooklyn home runs in the fifth inning to spell defeat for Milwaukee's Bob Buhl. Billy Loes was the winner, giving up seven hits. One was a home run by catcher Del Crandall, who broke up Thursday night's game with a home run in the 12th.

The ninth inning at Boston, a city buoyed by the return of Ted Williams (although still not to action), was a nightmare for reliefer Tom Gorman who couldn't get a man out in the ninth. Gorman walked Gene Stephens and Jim Piersall and threw wild to first on Grady Hatton's sacrifice, then walked Billy Goodman to force Stephens home with the winning run.

Williams Signs $75,000 Pact

BOSTON (AP)— Ted Williams has settled down to conditioning after signing a Boston Red Sox contract for the rest of the season, but he's not certain how much longer he will play.

The big lefthanded slugger with a .348 lifetime batting average put his signature on a contract worth an estimated $75,000 for the balance of the year on a pro rata basis Friday.

It's up to Ted now how long before he can get into shape for pinch-hitting and returning to a spot in the Sox lineup, according to Gen. Mgr. Joe Cronin and field boss Mike Higgins.

When asked how long he would remain in baseball in his fifth comeback (Marines 1946, elbow injury 1950, Marines 1953 and broken collarbone last year) Ted answered:

"I honestly don't know. Perhaps I should say that I'll play as long as I think I can do it. I'll quit as soon as I feel I can't do things right—can't help the team."

"I feel pretty good, but very tired," he said after spraying hits in and out of the playing field.

"Williams looks in fine shape—much better than I had been led to believe," confided trainer Jack Fadden after looking at the 36-year-old slugger. "Actually, he's in much better shape now than he was when he started training again last year after the collarbone injury. It won't take him long to get into action. Hitting's natural to this guy. All he needs is time to build up callouses on his hands and feet."

Ohio State Takes Lead in Big Ten

Bucks Edge Gophers, 4-3, On Disputed Play at Home

CHICAGO (AP) —Ohio State moved into the Big Ten baseball lead and Michigan and Minnesota dropped into a tie for second in fast developing action Friday.

A further reshuffling in the first division may come after today's schedule which sends Indiana to Minnesota and Ohio State to Iowa for doubleheaders and Michigan to Michigan State for a single contest.

Ohio State edged Minnesota 4-3 behind Harold Northrop's six-hitter to take the conference lead with a 5-2 record. The decisive Buckeye run in the seventh inning was protested by the Gophers.

The hassle came when Chuck Ellis' hit to center with Ron Shay and Warren Mizutani on base for Ohio State fell for a double. The base runners held up until the ball dropped between right fielder Shorty Cochran and Dick Anderson in center.

Stumbled for Tag

Shay was tagged out at the plate by Minnesota catcher Linder Peterson, who then faked a play for Ellis at second and stumbled against Mizutani. The umpires eventually ruled that Mizutani actually had not been tagged and had scored.

Michigan State blanked Michigan 3-0 as Walt Godfrey hurled a five hitter. The Spartans collected eight hits off Marv Wisniewski, one of them a homer by Bob Powell.

Illinois lost 9-6 to Wisconsin although getting 18 hits, including a Big Ten home run record display by sophomore Vic Petreshene.

Petreshene slammed two homers to run his production to six for the campaign, wiping out the record of five in one season by Michigan's Dick Wakefield in 1941.

Strand 14

The Illini first baseman's total has been made in five games. He missed three contests because of illness.

Illinois left 14 men stranded and Wisconsin won on Jim Schultz' two-run homer in the eighth.

Iowa downed Indiana 4-2 with catcher Don Bock accounting for all of the Hawkeyes' runs. He smashed a bases-loaded double and scored on a balk.

Northwestern's game at Purdue was rained out.

Three Sophomores In Irish Lineup in Old Timers Game

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)— Three sophomores-to-be will be in Notre Dame's starting lineup today in the annual Old Timers vs. Varsity game, climax of spring football drills.

The three rookies are end Dick Prendergast of Chicago, guard Al Francis of San Jose, Calif., and halfback Dick Wilkins of Duncan, Okla.

The varsity also includes the only two holdover regulars from the 1954 Irish team that compiled a 9-1 record and finished fourth in the AP's national poll. They are fullback Don Schaefer and halfback Jim Morse.

The third holdover, guard and captain, Ray Lemek, missed spring practices because of a knee operation.

The Old Timer lineup includes quarterback Ralph Guglielmi and halfback Joe Heap, ends Dan Shannon and Paul Matz, tackles Sam Palumbo and Frank Varrichione and center Dick Szymanski.

Ford After Fourth Under Par Round

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)— Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., today tried for his fourth straight sub-par round at the Hot Springs Country Club.

In three, Ford has shot 63, 67, 67—only the 63 doesn't count. He fired the 63, which tied the unofficial course record, in a practice round the day before the $15,000 Hot Springs Open got under way.

His 67-67—134 was good enough for a tie at the top with Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, who has fired identical rounds. Ted Kroll of Bethesda, Md., and Cary Middlecoff, the Masters champ from Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., were two strokes back at 136.

J. Hassler, D. Snider to State Meet

Flinn of Princeton, Potoncik of L-P Win Two Events

OTTAWA—(Special)—Joe Hassler and Dennis Snider of Walnut won trips to the state track meet as Hassler finished in a tie for second in the shot put, and Snider was second in the 880 yard run.

Two new records were set in the Ottawa district. Norm Ehlers of Mendota heaved the discus 159 feet, 4¾ inches and Roger Weller of LaMoille ran the 120 yard high hurdles in :15.3 to set the new standards.

Team honors went to LaSalle-Peru with 58 points. Ottawa was second with 33 1/5 points and Mendota was third with 24½ points.

Other scoring: Princeton 22; Walnut 10½; Marseilles 10; Somonauk 7; Marquette and Mid-County 6 1/5; Manlius and Pontiac 6; Serena 5; Waterman 3 1/5; Streator and Tiskilwa 3; Earlville and Wyanet 2, and Tonica 1/5. Teams entered but not scoring: Ohio, Wenona, Hall, Sheffield and Magnolia-Swaney.

Lou Flinn of Princeton and Potocnik of LaSalle-Peru were the only double winners. Flinn won the 180 yard low hurdles and the pole vault while Potocnik won the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Mantle May Have Cured His Strikeout Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Switch-hitting Mickey Mantle, who Friday joined the exclusive three-homers-in-one-game club, may have cured one of his biggest bugaboos-the strikeout problem.

"I'm trying to shorten my swing," the 23-year-old New York Yankee center fielder said Friday after he had three home runs, two from the left and one from the right side of the plate. "I've been working on it and I think I'm getting the idea."

Mantle used a couple of borrowed bats to turn the feat. Batting left-handed, he homered in the first and fifth off righthanded pitcher Steve Gromek of Detroit and then turning to the right side he homered in the eighth off lefty Bob Miller.

Batting lefthanded he also singled home a run to account for all the Yankee runs in a 5-2 victory over the Tigers.

Mantle disclosed that, in addition to using borrowed bats, he also had changed his batting tactics at the suggestion of Manager Casey Stengel and Coach Bill Dickey.

"I'm not trying to kill the ball any more," Mickey said. "I'm trying to swing easy and be sure to connect."

Stengel had criticized his centerfielder for trying to hit a home run every time and had suggested he concentrate on meeting the ball.

"He'd hit the ball just as far and wouldn't strike out so much," the grizzled Yankee manager added. Mickey struck out 107 times last year, fanned four times in a World Series game in 1953.

Mantle has been holding morning workouts during the team's home stay under Dickey, Hall of Fame catcher and one of the Yankees' greatest hitters in his heyday. Dickey also has been drilling Mickey on the theme of consistent hitting over power.

Mickey Mantle

Mantle, presently batting .289, has hit 10 home runs this season and shares the major league lead with Kansas City's Gus Zernial.

DOWN-TO-EARTH DEFENSE

Rocky Is Heavy Favorite

Wind Up Training Today

Heavyweight Title Bout Set For Monday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The long training grind ends, perhaps very happily, today for heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and Don Cockell, of England.

A couple of rounds for the unbeaten champ from America, three frames of light sparring for the English strong boy and thus will wind up weeks of hard work, all in preparation for their 15-round international struggle in Kezar Stadium Monday night.

The 30-year-old blockbuster from Brockton, Mass., is a hardened 188 pounds or so for the fifth defense of the title he won from Jersey Joe Walcott by a 13-round knockout in Philadelphia Sept. 23, 1952.

Cockell, the British Empire champion, weighs around 208, and while he is big in arm, leg and round about the middle, he can never be called flabby.

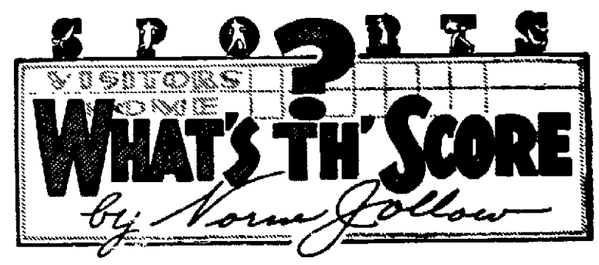
That is just about the poundage they'll carry into the ring.

Rocky's manager, Al Weill, said his champ needs a final, if brief tune-up with the gloves at his Calistoga camp 75 miles north of here.

Marciano remains a heavy betting favorite, with little action reported in this respect. And among the visiting corps of press, it is almost impossible to locate a person who is picking the Englishman to win. Included are the British writers who have followed Don's rather long and somewhat puzzling career.

FIGHT RESULTS

PHILADELPHIA—Fernando Fala, 196, Philadelphia, outpointed Lou Benson, 219, Baltimore, 8.



NEW BEDFORD, ILL., with its population of just 90 people, will be the softball capital of the world come fall and already the report is that tickets are at a premium.

New Bedford will host the world championship softball tournament sponsored by the International Softball league, Aug. 28, through Sept. 5, this year, and the report is that the block of 500 reserved seats for the tourney have been sold.

ANOTHER 250 RESERVED SEATS have been placed on sale at $12 each for the entire tournament of some 30 games. Tickets may be ordered from A. W. Carlson, Box 117, Manlius, Ill.

Although New Bedford is small in population, it is second to none in having one of the finest ball parks in the country, built exclusively for softball.

IT WAS A FINE NIGHT for the district track meet at Ottawa last night, we learned, but previous rains made it muddy in a couple of the lanes. Yet that didn't seem to stop some of the performers, notably Lew Flinn of Princeton who won the low hurdles event through the muck.

Mendota's Norm Ehlers is less than three feet away from the state discus record as a result of his toss in the district. The record is held by Bob Pellant of East Rockford and was set last year at 162 feet, 1⅛ inches.

Lausse Scores Decision in Non-Stop Bout With Jones

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Charley Johnston, who has two champions in featherweight king Sandy Saddler and light heavyweight ruler Archie Moore, hopes to make it three with Argentina's slugging middleweight, Eduardo Lausse.

The socking South American, nicknamed "KO" for his string of kayos, showed he had plenty of courage to go with his wallop when he blasted out a decisive and unanimous 10-round decision over durable Ralph (Tiger) Jones in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

That made it 28 straight for the rangy invader.

Lausse and Jones really wowed the 2,819 fans (gross gate $7,436) in the Garden and the television fans with their non-stop, virtually clinchless slugfest. Jones, a stocky aggressive Yonkers, N. Y., Negro, kept wading in and Lausse kept popping him.

Jones landed plenty of punches, too. But the persistent Jonesy hit singles while the Argentine belted triples. Lausse rocked his shorter rival at least five times with his wicked hooks.

Fearing that the fight would be stopped because of cuts, the Argentine gave it all he had in the last two rounds. He had Jones wobbling to clinch the decision.

All three officials voted for Lausse by 6-3-1 scores.

Each weighed 157½.

Pennsylvania Promoter Is For Eliminating Fight Rats

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Herman Taylor, one of the nation's leading boxing promoters spent two days thinking of what, if anything, he should do about Gov. George M. Leader's order suspending boxing for 90 days in Pennsylvania.

Taylor actually is the only promoter affected by the ban. Most of the small clubs are shut for the summer. Only Taylor presents outdoor fight shows here.

He had big plans for this summer, a welterweight title bout, a return meeting between Ralph (Tiger) Jones and Ray (Sugar) Robinson, and possibly a Bobo Olson vs Harold Johnson over-the-weight match.

Then came the blow. Johnson was drugged before a Taylor-promoted fight with Julio Mederos. Gov. Leader suspended boxing 90 days and ordered a thorough investigation of the sport.

After his two days of meditation, Taylor decided to forego any court suits testing the legality of the ban.

"I think Gov. Leader's move is a good thing," Taylor said. "Boxing has been taking an awful kicking around in recent years. Let them investigate and I offer my 100 per cent cooperation. If there are crooks in boxing, if there are fixed bouts, let's uncover the rats and throw them out."

Taylor said also he would tell the investigating committee that it should do something about "guilt by association" in boxing.

"In my business you deal with all walks of life," he went on. "I hire talent. After I've hired and paid them, I say goodbye. The point is that all people connected with boxing aren't rodents. Most of them, in fact are clean living people.

"I think the investigating committee will find that out. I'm all for weeding out the rodents if they can be weeded out. Proof is needed, not talk by publicity-seeking politicians and others."

Rear Guard Evacuates Haiphong

By LARRY ALLEN

ABOARD U.S. TRANSPORT GEN. A. W. BREWSTER OFF HAIPHONG, North Viet Nam (AP)—They came out from Haiphong in U.S.-built landing ships and boarded this U.S. Navy transport today, leaving behind the rich delta port and its treasures of thriving industries and nearby lush ricelands to the strick new order of Ho Chi Minh's Red Vietminh.

They were the rear guard: 1,900 dark-visaged Algerians and other French Union troops; 20 French arms WACs weary from the strain of the past months, 500 Vietnamese refugees; a lone American priest.

The landing ships, operated by French crews, pulled alongside this 12,000-ton transport anchored in a long bay. Before boarding the Gen. A. W. Brewster, the Algerian troops shucked cartridges into their steel helmets. Then they poured the steel-nosed bullets into big containers for storage under double-lock while they remain aboard the U.S. naval transport.

One Passenger

The last landing ship carried only one passenger, the Rev. Patrick O'Connor, correspondent for Catholic newspapers.

The troops and refuges ate and those who could slept. They were going to U.S.-backed South Viet Nam. The refugees could look forward to new homes in riceland villages to the South.

Haiphong was cut off from the non-Communist world. Ten thousand Vietminh soldiers, picked from four elite divisions which crushed the French at Dien Bien Phu, placed the seaport under martial law.

Haiphong's 236,000 residents were confined to their homes the first hours of the changeover. And they were ordered to show up today for a "victory parade."

Red Claims

Red China's Peiping radio said the Vietminh soldiers were welcomed with shouts and flowers and golden-starred red flags.

French Gen. Rene Cogny transferred to his headquarters on the Do Son peninsula southeast of Haiphong. With his staff, he leaves Sunday on the steamer Pille de Haiphong for Saigon

By Monday the Vietminh will control all the rich Red River Delta, under the Geneva settlement which gave the mall of Viet Nam north of the 17th Parallel.

DesMoines Cop To Work Extra Day for Officer

DES MOINES (AP)— Des Moines policemen plan to work on their days off for fellow officer William J. Pierce, a polio patient

Pierce, married and the father of three children, was to be dropped from the police department payroll Sunday. He had used up all his sick leave, vacation time and a special 60-day leave.

Patrolman C. M. Leaming informed the stricken policeman Friday that 52 officers had agreed to work their day off without pay so that Pierce could continue to receive his salary.

Hospitalized since Dec. 30, Pierce said he hoped to be back on the job in another month.

School Superintendent to Welcome Lt. Schreiber

CHICAGO (AP)— The superintendent of schools in suburban Brookfield says he will recommend that Lt. George C. Schreiber be given back his old school teaching job.

Schreiber, 27, whose sentence for murder has been commuted by Air Force Secretary Talbott, is to be released Wednesday from the disciplinary barracks at Lompoc, Calif.

Milton W. Hummel, Brookfield school superintendent, said Friday that he will recommend to the school board that Schreiber be restored to the teaching post he left in 1951 to enter military service.

"As far as I'm concerned, we want him back," said Hummel. He added that he expects no opposition from the seven-man board

Gordon Teichmann, principal of the elementary school where Schreiber taught, said he, too, would like to have Schreiber back.

Hummel said Schreiber "has a wonderful temperament for the job and gets along so well with young people."

A court martial in Korea in 1953 convicted Schreiber of murder for ordering the fatal shooting of a Korean prowler at a bomb dump. He was sentenced to life imprisonment

The sentence first was cut by the 5th Air Force to five years; then by Talbott to the 20 months already served.

Thugs Rob Pair Of Their Dream Trip to Italy

NEW YORK (AP)—The 20-year dream of a trip to her native Italy has become a nightmare for Mrs. Rose Colaviot.

She and her husband, Mike, saved meager sums over the years while they raised their seven children. Recently reaching a total of $3,000, the couple decided to fly to Italy July 6.

Friday 55-year-old Mrs. Colavito took the money out of the bank to buy plane tickets and get ready for the trip.

Near her Brooklyn home two young thugs robbed her, beat her and slashed her arm with a knife.

Two Youths Lead Police To $10,000

STREATOR, Ill. (AP)—Two youths have led police to where they buried a stolen $10,000 in an old coffee pot and a fishing tackle box.

Police say the youths, one 13, the other 14, admitted burglarizing the Brunsbach Coal Co. of Streator April 16 and burying the loot beside a creek, about two miles northeast of Streator.

Police Chief John Gaydos said one of the boys was picked up for questioning Friday because he had been involved in another burglary. He said the boy admitted the Brunsback burglary and involved "the second youth."

Gaydos said all but $250 of the stolen money was recovered. He said the youths told him part of the $250 went for ice cream, candy and entertainment.

The boys were held without formal charge.

Blind Shepherd Dog Spared Death

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A German shepherd dog is in desperate need today of a seeing-eye master.

The animal whose breed guides so many sightless humans, is blind.

He is at the city pound, where he will be put to death unless somebody claims him

Fred Wood, acting poundmaster, said the dog, about a year old, was picked up Monday. He was standing motionless and frightened in the middle of traffic on a busy street.

His eyes, looking like dark purple grapes, are completely sightless But his other senses are unusually keen, Wood said.

He never barks. He raises his nose and quivers when any one comes near, as if seeking someone he loves.

Wood says his sleek condition is proof he has been well cared for. He apparently was born blind or became so from disease. There is no evidence of injury to his eyes.

The pound is supposed to put unclaimed animals to death within 72 hours This dog, because his kind serves blind humans so faithfully, was given the reprieve.

Top Russian Officials To Meet President Tito

Talks Come as Surprise To West; Belgrade Is Site

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin will meet Yugoslav President Tito in Belgrade late this month, the Russian government disclosed today. Their talks will precede the Big Four East-West conference expected this summer.

The announcement, carried by the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia came as a surprise to observers here and abroad Independent Communist Yugoslavia has been estranged from the Kremlin since 1948, although relations have bettered in recent months.

No Comment

The U.S. State Department had no comment on the development But sources in Washington and London said Yugoslavia had informed Britain and the United States of the impending visit and assured them it reflected no change in the Tito government's policy of good relations with the West

Yugoslav Ambassador Dobrovije Videc dined Friday night with U.S. Charge D'Affaires Walter Walmsley. It was assumed in Moscow diplomatic circles the ambassador informed the United States at that time of the meeting.

The United States has furnished Yugoslavia with millions of dollars in economic and military aid since 1948 Tito also has joined in a mutual assistance pact with Greece and Turkey, two members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Leaves Warsaw

The Belgrade talks were announced as Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov prepared to leave Warsaw for Vienna to sign the long delayed Austrian state treaty. Molotov has been in the Polish capital for a conference setting up an 8-nation NATO-type alliance unifying the armed forces of the Soviet Union and its European satellites

While in Vienna Molotov is expected to discuss with Western foreign ministers the proposed meeting between Bulganin President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure The West has suggested the Big Four get together on world problems in July

The Izvestia account said that Khrushchev and Bulganin would be accompanied to Yugoslavia by several other high Russian officials including Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Gromyko, First Deputy Premier Anastase Mikoyan and Pavel Kumykin deputy foreign trade minister

Trade A Topic

Mikoyan is a veteran foreign trade expert The fact he and Kumykin were included indicated that trade would be one of the main topics of the talks

Relations between Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union have been cool since the 1948 break, when the Moscow-led cominform accused Tito of following "nationalistic" policies instead of the international Communist line

Although both countries have sought in recent months to "normalize" their relations Tito has insisted he will maintain his strict independence.

"If relations are improved with the Eastern countries why should one be afraid that we will deteriorate our relations with the West?"

Two interesting aspects of the announcement were the omission of Molotov from the official party and the placing of Khrushchev's name ahead of Bulganin's in the list of Russian representatives

Raps Molotov

In a speech to the Yugoslav Parliament last March, Tito sharply criticized Molotov for allegedly attempting to pass off the 1948 break as an error on Yugoslavia's part.

The position of Khrushchev's name in the official list of visitors apparently indicated he had played a leading role in setting up the talks Khrushchev is not a government minister but he head the Communist party apparatus in his post of first secretary of the party's central committee.

Plan Anniversary 40 Years Early

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Southerners may stand accused of moving at an unhurried pace, but nobody is going to accuse the North Carolina Senate of wasting time getting started

A resolution was introduced Friday to create a commission to plan the celebration of the 400th Anniversary of Sir Walter Raleigh's ill-fated lost colony at Manteo

The anniversary of the landing is 30 years away.
